WINTER PARK, FLORIDA.

Absolute freedom from all malaria, being far from, and high above, the swamps and low marshy lands, (we challenge the production of a single case originating on this plateau),

Magnificent hotel (the Seminole) of 250 rooms, delightfully located on high ground, between two beautiful lakes, equal to anything in the entire South;

Lands, high and rolling, covered with majestic pines, free from underbrush, where teams can be driven at will, a vast grove, and not a forest, dotted here and there with the sparkling lakes, suggesting crystal gems in emerald settings;

Ocean breezes constantly blowing from the Atlantic, 40 miles eastward, or the Gulf, 80 miles westward, laden with the balsamic odors of the pines, and carrying health and healing on their wings, and making as pure an air as can be found upon the face of the globe;

Its cluster of 11 beautiful lakes of running water, 40 feet deep, with hard, sandy bottoms, solid shores sloping gradually from a height of from 20 to 40 feet, and connected, by swiftly flowing brooks, with each other and with the St. John's River, 15 miles distant, above which they are about 100 feet, and all within 2 miles of Winter Park depot—without being convinced that Winter Park is surely destined to be the great popular winter resort of the country.

It is easy to say nice things about any place. Come and see Winter Park, and then judge whether our picture is too highly colored.
